

LIAM STEPHENSON

INTERACTIVE MEDIA DESIGNER

SPECIALIST SKILLS

Highly competent in a range of design software packages

Strong verbal communicator

Works well under pressure

Strong initiative

Fast learner

Excellent team worker

PROFILE

If I had to describe myself in one word it would be extroverted, which I believe connotes a number of traits that lead to good design work. My ability to easily adapt to new situations means that I thrive on tackling new design problems. My great interpersonal skills help me present my thoughts and ideas to a multitude of people, as well as allowing me to collaborate effectively in a team. Design is a strong passion of mine, with my 3 years of University feeling more like an enjoyable hobby than a rigorous training course. This passion provides me with a drive to want to learn more and develop my skills within design. I have a keen interest in app and experiential design which I hope to continue with in work after graduating in 2018.
